Mr. Wm. Lee Roy Casebeer
Golden Plains Unified

Rexford, Kansas 67753

Dear Mr. Casebeer:

You may never know how hard it was for the KOMA Krew to chose a Yearbook Queen from among the candidates.

As a former Kansan, I had trouble convincing some of the air personalities that the Wheat State has more beautiful girls than anywhere else.

Thanks for helping me prove it.

sincerely,

STUCO decides on

The STUCO was an important group during the year of '72. Organizing quickly at the start of the school term, they took on their first important project: Homecoming.

Under the presidency of Todd Knudson assisted by Vice-President Dan Roth and Secretary-Treasurer Janice Brantley, the STUCO showed their ability to think sensibly and act accordingly when it came to solving problems and discussing disagreements when they arose.

When no other group wants a project, the STUCO is where everyone turns. Christmas parties, candy machines, noon-hour volley ball games are a few of the year round responsibilities the STUCO handles in order to make the school year---1972 in particular---just a little more pleasant for everyone involved.

Homecoming '72 was marked by a week of competition. The classes competed by turning the unused walls into art galleries, by racing against time with their class piggy banks. by stuffing their mouths with Tootsie Rolls in between bells, by yelling their lungs out, by playing a competitive ball game, and by honoring royalty.

Beginning an unpredictible season marked by numerous upsets, the Golden Plains Bulldogs finished the season with a 2-7 record.

The two eight-man team games with Healy and Herndon were the highlights of the season with the Bulldogs overcoming the Healy Eagles 16 to 6 and then upsetting the Herndon Beavers 52 to 16.

Larry Wahlmeier, a new coach to the team, came with new ideas. The team had many problems to overcome: a football field with a light pole in the middle and a playing area to mow before every game.

He is Walt Frazier or Jerry West, the future pro. But more than that, just lunging for a loose ball can be a marvelous act of desire, done over fallen leaves or on a court cleaved of snow. A fast break is a boy's passion, and it is his training for the years ahead.

basketball '72

There's no better way to describe the basketball team's success in 1972 than to say with emphasis, "This is our Red Letter Year."

The players at home and in visiting games proved to spectators that a four-year old school with determination and coaching can put it all together and come up with a team that knows the meaning of teamwork no matter what town they come from.

The Bulldog varsity team ended the season with a League record of six wins and five losses, while coming out only one game behind in their season record. Their last win of the scheduled season was the Bulldogs' biggest margin victory when they led over the Herndon Beavers 84 to 38. But the game that probably made everyone--Coach Donald Sloan, players, teachers, students and townspeople--the happiest was the exciting battle with Brewster that advanced Golden Plains to District finals and on into the State Regional Tournament at Goodland.

The Bulldogs also finished third in the Northern Division of the WKL Tournament with their two victories over Herndon and Edson. Top scorer for the season was John Black with a final total of 199 points in league points. He was nominated to the All-League Team (pictured on page 44). Steve Shaw was high in rebounds with a season total of 164 points. Steve received honorable mention in the All-League Team.

The young team members, (a Sophomore being the average age of all the players) say that 1972 was a good year and with spirit, drive, and ability, 1973 can be even better.

Basketball--female style--was back to playing a five-man team, boys' rules. Apparently Coach Wahlmeier and the girls liked the new game, for their record went up from a few years past. At the end of the season, the "A" team was only one game behind with five wins and six losses.

The Bulldogs were led in scoring by Patty Morton. Although she missed two games because of sickness, her total was above the rest of the players with a season total of eighty-three. The "B" team, consisting of seven players made a name for the school by pushing their way clear to the top of the "B" Team Girls Tourney held at Winona and proudly carrying home a first place trophy. '72 was a Red Letter Year!

The scrape and snap of Keds on courts seem to catapult their voices high into the moist air. Schoolyard or playground ball - basketball no matter the name- is a "terrific dream game, a fantasy, an addiction."

The Y-Teens were an active club within the high school during the 1972 school year. Co-sponsored by Mrs. Bev Garrett and Mrs. Jodi Rogers, the growing group planned most of the first semester for the winter Snoball which was held in the Selden Gymnasium. There, in a Christmas atmosphere, with music by the Canadian Blue Goose, King Fred Albers and Queen Rhonda McKee were honored by the Y-Teens and other friends.

Along with awarding a "People of the Month" every thirty days, other projects which kept the girls very busy included a program for the dwellers of Meadowlark Manor in Colby, Trick-or-Treating for UNICEF, planning the annual Easter program and egg hunt, and, in just all-round helping to make 1972 a better year.

1972 was a new and different year for the band. Entertaining for football pep rallies and during warm-up periods at basketball games gave many people a chance to hear the 20-member band that wouldn't have otherwise. A Pop Concert in November and the State Music Contest in April rounded out the year for the music makers.

Discordant sounds were never heard from Mr. Taylor's room on Thursdays for that was when Golden Plains' Mixed Chorus was practicing. Their main performances were at the Pop Concert and a concert given in the spring.

The 1972 Band and Mixed Chorus were under the able direction of Mr. Lloyd R. Taylor.

Armed with pencils and paper, the seven yearbook staff members ventured out this year in quest of whatever was unique. No classroom, no Golden Plains function was safe from their prying eyes. The BULLDOG staff had a formidable year before them.

Led by Mr. Lee Roy Casebeer, their advisor, and Dalene Mustoe, their editor, the group met every Thursday afternoon.

The staff's dream was to capture the essence of this, our red letter year.

Go placidly amid the noise & haste,
& remember what peace may be in silence ...
With all its sham, drudgery & broken dreams,
it is still a beautiful world.
Be careful.
Strive to be happy.

a red letter year . . .

. . . is called that because it is special or because something happened that made it stand out. Every year is alittle different than those before or those that follow simply because nothing happens the same way twice and changes are always made.

The year 1972 was one to be remembered--because of sports and the achievements the teams made in that area. It is to be remembered--because of drama and the accomplishments made by those students in league, district, and state competition. It is to be looked back on by makers of music--because the year was the beginning of new sounds coming from that department. Scholars look back at 1972 and recall the new things they learned and the older things they reviewed. Every "will-be" or "has-been" Senior has a red-letter year because that particular year is both an end and a beginning to very important stages of his life.

This yearbook is intended to point out the reasons 1972 was a red-letter year and to picture the people who made it so. It was our goal to make it a book for all ages--from 1972 to 1984.

My thanks, as editor, go to my staff of five. I can honestly say that they all deserve credit for working on the yearbook-if not in actually laying out a page, then in throwing in their ideas and offering encouragement where needed.

I would like to express a special thanks also to the advisor who worked long hours with a pencil and ruler in hand to help make this book what it is.

My thanks, in addition, to my fellow Seniors and other special friends who helped make 1972 a red-letter year for me--may every day be the best day of your life!

Dalene Mustoe
